Childhood

Published in association with the Norwegian Centre for Child Research

Childhood is a major interdisciplinary forum for research relating to children in contemporary global society that spans divisions between geographical regions, disciplines, social and cultural contexts, and applied and basic research.

Interdisciplinary Scholarship

Childhood publishes articles, reviews and scholarly comment on theoretical issues which aim to foster increased awareness and understanding of the research on children's culture, economics, language, health and social networks, with an emphasis on their rights and position in society. Each issue of the journal draws on work from a variety of disciplines concerned with the study of children and childhood including sociology, health studies, anthropology, cultural studies, social policy and welfare, history, economics, education, psychology and development studies.

International in Scope

Childhood is a truly international journal. A dynamic team of editors from the United States, Norway, the United Kingdom, The Netherlands and Finland have brought together an impressive list of scholars and researchers from around the world.
